

April 29, 2020

Dear Beginning Woodwind Students,

We hope you're continuing to play your instrument. Find a quiet spot in your house, set up your music stand, take out your instrument and get ready to play again! Here's your assignment for this week. You can go as far as you want in the book. And let me know how it's going. I'd love to hear from you!

Warm-up: Continue your warm-up exercise from last week. On the Daily Warm-ups #86, #87 and #88 try using a metronome to keep a steady beat. Set your metronome to 72 for the quarter note. Play steadily. Make sure your fingers and tongue are staying with the beat. You can experiment with increasing the speed by going up to 90.

Practice: Keep up your performance songs #57, #58, #77, #90 and #91. Try out the metronome and set it to different tempos. Start with 72 again and add one number on the metronome each time you play it. For example, start with 72, then 73, 74, 75 etc. If you'd like to record one for us, please send it to me!

New challenge: Now that you know about slurs, you can play different articulations in different songs. Practice #99, #100, and #101 so you can put them together. Go as far as you can in your book and see what you can play.

Practice Tips:

Always play with your best tone.

Remember to let out a little air at a time so you can play for longer.

Always have a pencil so you can mark your music for notes, articulations, and dynamics.

Online Resources in your book: Don't forget that your book has a student activation number that allows you to access online resources to help you practice. Find your student activation number and follow the directions at the end of the book.

Are you interested in an online lesson?

We are offering short online lessons to keep you going on your instrument. Please contact me Ruth Kasckow at kasckowr\_music@alflintridge.org and I will get back to you to let you know how to arrange it. This is the last week to take advantage of online lessons!

Happy Practicing!

Ms. Ruth Kasckow & Mr. Shahid Osuna