

December 17, 2020

Dear Parents,

I hope your child is enjoying his/her music lessons and I want to thank you for your patience as we navigated this new format on Zoom. We appreciate the effort that you parents make to help facilitate these Zoom classes. Thank you all! The good news is it does seem that things are going more smoothly now and our instructors are very pleased with the progress the students are making. Bravo to our young musicians!

Classes will follow the LCUSD Winter Break calendar, so this Saturday, December 19, will be the last day of classes for 2020. Classes will resume on Monday, January 4, 2021. We realize this is a non-school day, but rather than have students just miss their class this week, we will have class for those able to attend.

Classes for Beginning students will continue with the 20-minute private lessons through January at least. Your child's instructor will contact you when we are ready to combine the Beginning students into a half-hour class. They may want to make a slight adjustment to the times listed on the registration material, but don't worry, they will definitely coordinate with you so any change will work for your student.

I know how easy it is to lose emails, so as a reminder, these communications and all updated information will always be posted on our website: alflintridge.org. Use the menu to go to Instrumental Music and then go to your student's class page. There is also a tab to access Music's Google Calendar, which we try to keep updated, so that's another good resource.

I wish you a very Happy Holiday season and a Healthy New Year! Goodbye 2020, Hello 2021! It's got to be better!!!

Hopefully these two weeks will bring a welcome respite from daily Zooming!
