Dear Music Parents,

Happy New Year! Here's to a hopeful, healthy, musical 2021 ~

I hope you had a relaxing holiday and were able to enjoy some device-free days and a respite from online classes. Now it's back to Zooming, with Music classes resuming on Monday, January 4.

Thankfully, the zoom links seem to be doing their job, but if you do have difficulty, you should be able to put "join.zoom.us" in your browser and then use the meeting ID number and password to enter. The ID number and password are listed along with the zoom link information.

A reminder, too, that if your student is going to miss class or you do have trouble with zoom, please email your instructor. They will try to check their email when a student is missing. The instructor emails are listed on the website (alflintridge.org) using the tabs for "Music Staff" or "Contact Music" at the bottom of Music's home page. They all follow the same format:

last name, first name initial_ music@alflintridge.org

Contacting ALF or me for an immediate need is not likely to be helpful, since we may not get your message until much later. Also, with the current COVID conditions, there's often no one at ALF to answer the phone or play messages.

We're excited to see the progress the students are making and are appreciative of the effort that you and your child are contributing to make it all happen.

Let's make 2021 a "note-worthy" year!
